

Private Residence

London, SE23

- Project Name: Private Residence, London, SE23
- Client: Louise Hardy & Nick Barr
- Architect: KMK Architects
- Stones Used: Belgium Blue limestone
- Finish: Patinato
- Completed: October 2018

The clients for this new build ground floor extension in South East London, wanted a floor tile that would be suitable for indoor and outdoor use with a smooth, low-slip finish.

After considering Flammed and Sabbiato finishes they decided on the dark, leathered Patinato finish for both their new kitchen diner flooring and external patio paving.

Over 40 sqm of Belgian blue Patinato tiles 1500 x 600 x 20 mm were laid.

The natural dark tone of the Patinato floor tiles create the perfect background for this hi-end luxury kitchen, showcasing the key designer furnishings perfectly.

“The client wanted an artisanal approach to the design. The larger sized slabs of Belgian Blue stone gave us a seamless journey from inside to outdoors and are a perfect fit in our palette of concrete, copper and wood.”

Fawzia Kane, Director KMK Architects

“We absolutely love the Belgian Blue limestone floor you supplied and were very impressed with Trans-European Stone Ltd.”
